INTERNATIONAL SEARCH REPORT

International application No.
PCT/AU2004/001001

Box No. II Observations where certain claims were found unsearchable (Continuation of item 2 of first sheet)

This international search report has not been established in respect of certain claims under Article 17(2)(a) for the following reasons:

1. Claims Nos.:
because they relate to subject matter not required to be searched by this Authority, namely:

2. Claims Nos.:
because they relate to parts of the international application that do not comply with the prescribed requirements to such an extent that no meaningful international search can be carried out, specifically:

3. Claims Nos.:
because they are dependent claims and are not drafted in accordance with the second and third sentences of Rule 6.4(a)

Box No. III Observations where unity of invention is lacking (Continuation of item 3 of first sheet)

This International Searching Authority found multiple inventions in this international application, as follows:

See attached sheet.

1. As all required additional search fees were timely paid by the applicant, this international search report covers all searchable claims.
2. As all searchable claims could be searched without effort justifying an additional fee, this Authority did not invite payment of any additional fee.
3. As only some of the required additional search fees were timely paid by the applicant, this international search report covers only those claims for which fees were paid, specifically claims Nos.:

4. No required additional search fees were timely paid by the applicant. Consequently, this international search report is restricted to the invention first mentioned in the claims; it is covered by claims Nos.:1-8

Remark on Protest

- The additional search fees were accompanied by the applicant's protest.
 No protest accompanied the payment of additional search fees.

Supplemental Box

(To be used when the space in any of Boxes I to VIII is not sufficient)

Continuation of Box No: II

The international application does not comply with the requirements of unity of invention because it does not relate to one invention or to a group of inventions so linked as to from a single general inventive concept. In coming to this conclusion the International Searching Authority has found that there are different inventions as follows:

1. Claims 1-8 are directed to a spray applicator comprising an applicator having a first containing portion for containing a first constituent of the mixture, and at least one second containing portion for releasably containing a further constituent of the mixture, wherein at least the further constituent may mix with the first constituent to form a mixture.
It is considered that this spray applicator for containing, mixing and releasing comprises a first "special technical feature".
2. Claim 9 is directed to a spray applicator which comprises a container for containing at least one fluid to be sprayed which includes an internal agitation means and a drive means separate from but engageable with the agitation means. It is considered that this spray applicator with the internal agitation means comprises a second "special technical feature".
3. Claim 10 is directed to a spray applicator which comprises a container, activation means, a container closure engageable with the container which includes a fluid opening, at least one reservoir for containing a further constituent in fluid communication with the fluid opening and a mixing valve to control the flow of the further constituent from the at least one reservoir. It is considered that the container, activation means & container closure comprises a third "special technical feature".

Since the abovementioned groups of claims do not share either of the technical features identified, a "technical relationship" between the inventions, as defined in PCT rule 13.2 does not exist. Accordingly the international application does not relate to one invention or to a single inventive concept.
